POETRY

A MAGAZINE OF VERSE

announces the following publications of special interest in its current and future numbers:

AN ENGLISH NUMBER
Edited by W. H. Auden and Michael Roberts.
Presenting the latest work in poetry and poetic criticism by the younger English writers.

A SOCIAL POETS NUMBER
Edited by Horace Gregory.
Presenting the younger American poets of social and proletarian interests, and their critical standards.

AN ANNIVERSARY NUMBER
October, 1936
Observing the twenty-fourth birthday of POETRY, "the original and most important poetry magazine of modern America," which has been published over a longer space of time than any other journal devoted to the art in the English language.

POETRY, during the past three years, has continued its policy of presenting the best work by poets of the English-speaking world.

It has printed new work by established writers:
William Butler Yeats, Ezra Pound, Marianne Moore, Wallace Stevens, Conrad Aiken, John Gould Fletcher, Hart Crane, S. Foster Damon, Carl Sandburg, Padraic Colum, Allen Tate, Edmund Wilson, Robert Frost, H.D., William Carlos Williams.

It has published the works of many younger writers:
Robert Penn Warren, John Peale Bishop, Horace Gregory, Hildegarde Flanner, Bertram Higgins, John Wheelwright, C. A. Millspaugh, Harold L. Cook, George Dillon, Stanley J. Kunitz, Marya Zaturenska, T. C. Wilson, David De Jong, Norman Macleod, Winfield Scott, and others.

It has continued to print authoritative criticisms and reviews by R. P. Blackmur, J. G. Fletcher, R. P. Warren, Kenneth Burke, Louise Bogan, A. J. M. Smith, Robert Fitzgerald, Harold Rosenberg, D. G. Bridson, Michael Roberts, Sherry Mangan, John Wheelwright, Horace Gregory, Raymond Holden, W. C. Williams, F. R. Leavis, Joseph M. Hone, and the Editors.

Subscription: $3 a year.
